PREFACE

This cumulative volume, covering the period 1957-59, indexes 57 journals in the field of religion and closely related areas. The main part of the Index contains 13,692 entries for 3,563 articles by approximately 2400 different authors. There is an average of four entries per article, one for the author and three for subject entries. The second part of the index lists 5,912 book reviews. There are about 200 additional book review articles are listed in the first part of the index.

This cumulation represents volume 4 of the INDEX TO RELIGIOUS PERIODICAL LITERATURE. Volume 1 (1949-52) and volume 2 (1953-54) indexed thirty journals. Volume 3 (1955-56) has not yet been published. Every effort will be made to fill this gap. The Index will continue to be published as an annual for the years 1960 and 1961. These annual publications will be followed by a cumulation covering the period 1960-62. It is intended gradually to increase the number of periodical titles. Hereafter a list of book reviews will be included in the annual volumes as well as the cumulation.

While the service is basically Protestant in outlook, selected Roman Catholic and Jewish journals are also included. The index aims to be ecumenical on both the scholarly and popular levels. It is international in scope, including as it does leading theological journals of Canada, England, France, Germany, Japan, Scotland, and other countries. In short, the aim is to provide a general index to periodical resources in the areas of religious and theological scholarship.

The Index will serve all types of libraries, both those which may subscribe to the journals indexed and those which do not but which need a current periodical reference tool in this area. The theological librarian will find it invaluable for the research undertaken by both faculty and students. The college and university librarian will use it in connection with courses given in the fields of religion, theology, and history. The public librarian will find it helpful in meeting inquiries in the whole area of religion, religious history and related subjects, such as archaeology, social and political issues, psychiatry, Biblical literature and linguistics.

The publication of the Index in its present form was made possible by a grant from the Sealantic Fund, Inc., in 1957. Whereas the first and second volumes had been produced by volunteer efforts on the part of certain members of the American Theological Library Association, the Sealantic grant permitted the employment of a full time editor and the establishment of an editorial office. The Association appointed a Board of Directors charged with the responsibility to carry forward the project.

The Board wishes to express its gratitude to the editor, Dr. Lucy W. Markley, for her patient and painstaking work in supervising the production of the Index, and in organizing and managing the indexing office. We also desire to thank Mrs. C. Thomas Hilton for her expert clerical assistance and for compiling the book review section, and Dr. Donald C. Ziemke for his help in indexing and other details. We are indebted to Princeton Theological Seminary and to its librarian, Dr. Kenneth S. Gapp, for providing office space and for the use of the resources in the Speer Library.

We hope that librarians, students, and scholars will find this cumulation a useful reference tool and will regard it as another step in providing an expanding index to religious periodical literature. We welcome the comments and criticism of all its users.

USING THE INDEX

Purpose and Arrangement. This Index is designed to assist the reader in locating articles and book reviews in fifty-seven periodicals. For the list of journals indexed in the period covered (1957-1959), consult the front end papers. The Index is divided into two parts. The first part contains an alphabetical arrangement of the articles by author and subject. The second part is an author list of the books reviewed in the journals indexed.

Finding an Article by Subject. The content of each article indexed has been entered under two or more subject headings. Be as specific as possible in selecting the subject heading under which you look. If one subject yields unsatisfactory results, try a synonym, a related subject, or follow the suggestions given in the "see also" references. With respect to articles dealing with books of the Bible, look for the name of the particular book under the main heading "Bible". For example, you may wish to locate material on the Psalms. Look for "Bible. Old Testament Psalms". If you want the Gospel of Mark, look for "Bible. New Testament Mark". In another subject field you may be looking for articles dealing with race problems. If you look under "Race problems", you will find a "see" reference to "Christianity and race problems". If you had looked first under "Negroes in the United States", several articles would have been found together with a "see also" reference to "Christianity and race problems". Turning to "Psychiatry", you will find "see also" references to specific subjects. Then there appears a long list of articles under "Psychiatry and religion". Each article deals in some way with relationship between psychiatry and religion.

Finding an Article by its Author. Look under the name of the author in whom you are interested. For example, "Tillich, Paul". You will see at a glance the articles he has published in the periodicals included in this Index. He is also discussed by other writers, such articles will follow immediately under the word ABOUT. For other examples, look under Bultmann or Cullmann. Articles BY the author appear first, followed by articles ABOUT him, or perhaps a review article on a book he has written.

Sample Entries from the First Part.

Author entry: BEARE, Francis Wright
Risen Jesus bestows the Spirit;
a study of John 20:19-23.
CanJTh 4:95-100 Ap'58

USING THE INDEX - (Continued)

Subject entries:

BIBLE. NEW TESTAMENT

JESUS CHRIST
Resurrection
Risen Jesus bestows the Spirit.;
a study of John 20:19-23.
F. W. Beare. CanJTh 4:95-100 Ap'58

The author of this article is Beare, Francis Wright. The title of the article begins: "The risen Jesus...". There is no entry under the title. Instead the content of the article is analyzed and entered under three subject headings, as shown above. The article will be found in the Canadian Journal of Theology, volume 4, pages 95-100, the April 1958 issue.

Finding a Book Review. Look in the second part of this volume under the name of the author of the book. The arrangement is alphabetical by the author and title of the book reviewed, followed by the citation and the name of the reviewer. Occasionally, in addition to the reviews listed there, a critical or interpretative article may have dealt with the book in question. Such an article will be found only in the first part of the volume, also under the author's name. For example, see BRUNNER, Heinrich Emil.
